CELEBRATION

On St. Patrick's Day Under Auspices of Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Brilliant Audience Revelled in Melodies and Lore of Erin.

Judge Matt O'Doherty Made Able Address On Irish Politics.

MUSICAL NUMBERS EXCELLENT

It was a gay throng that assembled at Macaulay's Theater last Sunday evening to attend the celebration of St. Patrick's day given under the auspices of the County Board, Ancient Order of Hibernians. The fact that it was not only Lent, but Palm Sunday, kept many away who would otherwise have been there. Yet it was a brilliant audience of fair women and brave men, sons and daughters of Erin all. Prof. Dennis Collins' orchestra kept the audience in good humor with lively Irish airs until the curtain arose for the first vocal number on the musical programme.

These numbers followed in rapid succession and each soloist was compelled to respond to an encore. R. H. Edelen, Miss Effie McDonald, D. J. Maloney and Mrs. T. A. Barrett were the soloists, and all admirably acquitted themselves. Mrs. May Doyle Harig, who had arranged the musical programme, was the accompanist, and her work at the piano was of great aid to the several singers. J. J. Flynn, an old time entertainer at Irish celebrations, gave a recitation that called forth an encore. The musicals closed with a quartette, "Sons of Ireland," and the vocalists were Misses Effie McDonald and Imelda Shea and Messrs. R. H. Edelen and J. J. Flynn.

Thomas Walsh, President of Division 1, as Chairman of the evening, in fitting language introduced Judge Matt O'Doherty, who delivered the principal address. Attorney Walsh's introductory remarks were very happy and gave the audience an idea of what they might expect from the able Irish-American jurist. Owing to the length of the musical programme and the numerous encores, Judge O'Doherty was compelled to curtail his address to a mere passing glance at the present political situation in England and Ireland. Himself a Hibernian and a native of Ireland, Judge O'Doherty knew exactly how to address his audience and although he spoke for an hour, he held the attention of everyone until he closed. After paying his respects in a very happy manner to Chairman Walsh, Judge O'Doherty dwelt upon the manner in which Irishmen everywhere celebrated St. Patrick's day. In this connection he said:

"It is to the everlasting credit of the Irish race that the name and memory of the great apostle, who more than fourteen hundred years ago led their ancestors from the darkness of paganism to the sunlight of Christian truth are as much revered and respected by the sons and daughters of that race today as at any time in the past. Time that works such wonderful changes in the affairs of men and of nations has brought no abatement to the tide of grateful affection which the name and memory of St. Patrick, as his feast day occurs, awakens in the hearts of the Irish people and their descendants throughout the world." He told his audience that St. Patrick's day for centuries past had been associated, not alone with the religious, but with the political interests and aspirations of the Irish people, and its association and significance in this latter aspect are constantly increasing so that St. Patrick's day now appeals not merely to those who cling to the ancient faith and historic church, but to Irishmen of all creeds but one political faith, the liberty and independence of Ireland.

Judge O'Doherty is a master of detail, and all this led up to the discussion of Ireland's present political status. He went back to the time of Gratian and the Irish Volunteers, to 1782, when no Catholic could hold office in Ireland, nor could a Catholic become a member of the Irish Parliament. He told how Gratian had protested the home industries of Ireland, and of the stand taken by the Irish Volunteers when the time of the English Revolution came. He concluded with this placard on the banner of their cannon: "Free Trade or Else."

Judge O'Doherty recounted how the Irish Volunteers movement had brought the Irish Protestants and Catholics together, and told how the English had corrupted the Irish Parliament and brought the Irish people to the point of a civil war in 1800. The English dwelt at length on the wrongs and robberies of the English people by the English Government during the past 110 years. A number of these grievances, he said, were involved in the present situation of the Irish people for home rule. Judge O'Doherty did not blame the English for the treatment accorded English Catholics, but he said that the English Government had no voice in the matter, and that the English people were to be blamed for blocking the path of the Irish, just as they have always done. They have opposed every measure, every step forward, the British masses have ever made. True, they have invariably yielded when they found their opposition was unavailing or there was danger that it might prove perilous to their own interests; but they have now apparently taken such a stand, planted themselves so firmly in the upward and onward path of the people, that their complete abolition or a radical curtailment of their power and prerogative must be brought about.

The address of Judge O'Doherty was frequently applauded and many would have willingly heard him speak an hour longer. Quite a number of clergymen attended the celebration and took a hearty interest in the musical numbers as well as in Judge O'Doherty's address. The County Board had invited the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue and Gov. Willson to be their guests last Sunday evening. Each sent letters regretting that other duties compelled them to forego the pleasure.

CLAWS CUT.

General Council Takes Power For Harm From City Attorney.

The General Council promptly sheared the present City Attorney, of his power to hinder or annoy the present city administration when it passed an ordinance this week that abolishes seven positions under City Attorney Blakey. The "ripper bill" presented to the Kentucky Legislature by Senator Samuel L. Robertson would have removed City Attorney Blakey and his first and second assistants. That bill failed of passage in the Senate. The offices of City Attorney and his first and second assistants were created by act of Legislature, but the offices abolished by the new ordinance were created from time to time by separate ordinance.

It abolishes the office of law clerk, book-keeper, abstract clerk and assistant abstract clerk and does away with three stenographers. The ordinance creates the office of Mayor's Counsel at a salary of $2,400 a year, and also provides for a tax attorney, law accountant and title attorney, at salaries of $1,500 a year, and one stenographer at $85 a month, and two at $75 a month. The position of messenger at $30 a month is also created.

The lower board of the General Council passed the ordinance on Tuesday evening, and the Board of Aldermen on Wednesday. The Mayor will sign it, and City Attorney Blakey will be shorn of his power. The ordinance is a good one, but will hardly meet the approval of the Republican organs, who are now howling with rage because Republican policemen and firemen have been supplanted by Democrats. The Evening Post says that out of 700 men in the Police and Fire departments, 201 have been displaced since the election because they were Republicans. No doubt that is true, and there are at least 200 more that ought to be displaced. The Mayor and the Board of Public Safety ought to be encouraged to keep up the good work.

The Louisville Post claims that Clayton Blakey has kept the City Attorney's office out of politics. So! It is well known that City Attorney Blakey went through the Eighth and Ninth wards on election day in an automobile bearing the sign, "Vote for James F. Grinstead." In 1908 Joseph Lawton, one of Mr. Blakey's Assistant City Attorneys, acted as Sheriff of the election at Sixth and Kentucky streets, and bragged over the fact that twelve negroes were registered from upstairs in the same building in which the polls were located.

WELCOME

In True Kentucky Style Welcomes the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue.

Clergy and Laity Will Have Part in the Coming Reception.

New Prelate Will Be Kept Busy Making Acquaintance of Flock.

CATHOLIC ORDERS ARE PLANNING

Tomorrow will be the first day of a great week for the Catholic diocese of Louisville. Easter Sunday will be followed by Easter Monday, the day upon which Bishop O'Donoghue will come to take possession of his see. The usual Easter services will be held in all the churches tomorrow, and of course prayers will be offered for the welfare and successful administration of the diocese.

In outline the plans for welcoming the Bishop are these: Monday morning as many priests of the diocese as can find it convenient will go to Indianapolis on a special train to greet Bishop O'Donoghue and escort him to Louisville. Certain priests will constitute the official escort. Monday evening the Bishop will come to Louisville escorted by clergy from Louisville and Indianapolis. On arriving at the Union Station, Tenth and Broadway, carriages will be in waiting to receive the new prelate and his escort. There, too, the delegation of laymen will meet Bishop O'Donoghue. It is expected that all the Catholics in Louisville will line the sidewalks on both sides of Broadway from Tenth to Brook street, and the carriages will move east on Broadway to Brook street, and thence to College, where the episcopal residence is located. The residence has been thoroughly renovated and handsomely furnished for the reception of the new prelate.

On Tuesday morning the Bishop and his official escort will proceed from the episcopal palace to the Cathedral, where His Lordship will be formally enthroned and will celebrate Pontifical mass. He will also deliver his first formal pastoral address to the clergy and laity. After the mass the Bishop will be entertained at dinner at the Seelbach.

Archbishop Moeller and all the Bishops of this province and several Bishops from other provinces are expected to be present at the enthronization. Prelates and priests will form in the Cathedral rectory shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. They will move in slow procession from the rectory to Fifth street and enter the main door of the Cathedral at 9:30 o'clock. Bishop O'Donoghue and his deacons of honor will bring up the rear. On arriving at the sanctuary Bishop O'Donoghue will be escorted to his throne on the gospel side of the altar. There he will be addressed by the Very Rev. Administrator Father James P. Cronin. After that Bishop O'Donoghue will be robed for Pontifical mass.

At the gospel the canon will be preached by the Right Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of Covington, and one of the most eloquent prelates in the province. After the mass Archbishop Moeller is expected to deliver a brief address. The ceremonies will close with the kissing of the episcopal ring by the clergy and the first pastoral address of Bishop O'Donoghue. The music of the mass will be rendered by the Cathedral choir augmented by the principal singers of all the Catholic choirs in the city, and directed by Prof. Joseph Chase. Haydn's Third Mass will be rendered. The banquet at the Seelbach will begin at 1:30 o'clock. There will be no other festivities on Tuesday.

On Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock the children of the parochial schools, or as many of them as the Cathedral will hold, will attend mass celebrated by the Bishop. After the mass he will be addressed in English by a pupil of the Cathedral school, and in German by a pupil of St. Mary's school. On Wednesday evening the laity of the diocese will assemble at the Cathedral, at which time each person will be presented to Bishop O'Donoghue and each person will kneel and kiss his ring.

There is every indication that Bishop O'Donoghue will be kept busy attending banquets and receptions for several weeks to come, as each order and society of Catholics is planning something in his honor. The Knights of Columbus, of which he is a fourth degree member, will give a reception and banquet on the evening of Tuesday, April 5. Only Knights will attend. The Catholic Knights of America, the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Y. M. I. are also planning receptions for the new chief shepherd of the diocese. Enthusiastic touches are now being put on the interior of the Cathedral. The work has been in progress since before Lent. The doors will be thrown open for solemn vespers tomorrow evening. The stately old edifice is more beautiful than ever. This time the decorations are in lighter tones, and take away the former sombre character of the church. Myriads of electric lights illumine the ceiling, and all in all the Catholics of Louisville have reason to be proud of their rejuvenated Cathedral. The people will be surprised when they witness the transformation.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Is Ready For Its Spring Campaign As Usual.

Mackin Council had another well attended meeting last Monday night, with President John T. Kenney in the chair. James Schrems and F. J. Aestler were reported ill. One new member was proposed and two were elected. It was announced that Mackin Council would hold a big initiation on April 18. The Opera Committee, which is arranging for the production of "Among the Stars," reported splendid progress.

The special committee arranging for Mackin Council's part in the bazaar for the benefit of the new St. Cecilia's church announced that it was ready for the bazaar to open. The following committee to arrange with Trinity Council for a joint Y. M. I. welcome to Bishop O'Donoghue was named: Robert T. Burke, Charles S. Ralby, Louis J. Kieffer, Dr. J. A. Casper and Frank G. Adams.

RECENT DEATHS.

Many friends mourn with Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Ryan, of 2020 Sherwood avenue, over the death of their little son, Gerard F. Ryan, who was called to his heavenly home last Saturday, St. Joseph's day. The little one was not quite five years old, but was the idol of fond parents. Their consolation is that at least one more angel awaits them in heaven.

The funeral of Charles J. Glenn, twenty years old, took place from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Glenn, 1321 Bardstown road, on Monday morning with a requiem mass at St. James church. The deceased youth had been ill a long time and his death was not unexpected. Charles Glenn was formerly a pupil of St. Xavier's College and was beloved by all who knew him.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. White have the sympathy of many friends in their grief over the death of their infant son, Louis William, who died Wednesday night. The funeral took place from the home of the child's maternal grandfather, Michael J. Walsh, 722 Oldham street, yesterday afternoon. The little one was only fourteen months old, but had found a warm place in the hearts of his parents and grandfather.

Another pioneer member was lost to St. Michael's church when Michael Wafzig, aged seventy-seven, succumbed to heart trouble. Deceased was a native of Bavaria, but for over half a century lived in this city and was well known on Main street. Surviving him are four sons, Frank, Joseph, Paul and Nick, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Erasmus. The funeral took place Tuesday morning, Rev. Martin O'Connor officiating at the mass of requiem.

Stricken with pneumonia in February, John P. Monahan, aged twenty-two years, died at his home on Sunday morning at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Mary Monahan, 2117 Bank street. For years the deceased had been with Bonnie Bros., and was held in high esteem in business and social circles. Besides his mother he is survived by a brother and a sister. The funeral took place Tuesday morning, when St. Cecilia's church was thronged with sorrowing friends and relatives.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Allgeier, who died Sunday morning at the family residence on Rutherford avenue, took place Wednesday morning from St. Francis church, of which she was one of the oldest members. A devoted wife, loving mother and kindly neighbor, Mrs. Allgeier was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The aged husband, Joseph Allgeier, four sons, Leo, John, Joseph and Paul, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Guertle, Mrs. Edward Gyr and Mrs. Daniel Kaelin, survive her. Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Allgeier celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

John J. Scanlon, one of the best known young men in St. Patrick's parish, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Dennis Scanlon, 1837 Bank street, on Tuesday morning. He had been ill five weeks and death resulted from a complication of diseases. The deceased was thirty-one years old and was born in the house in which he died. He is survived by his mother, a sister, Miss Mollie Scanlon, and two brothers, Detective D. Scanlon, of the Louisville Detective Bureau, and Dennis Scanlon, of Indianapolis. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church on Thursday morning.

Anthony Eichler, eighty-six years old and a native of Germany, died at the family residence, 2715 West Market street, early Tuesday morning. He had been confined to his bed for nearly a year, and death resulted from the infirmities of old age. Mr. Eichler came to America in 1849 and settled in Louisville. He established a merchant tailoring business and conducted it successfully for forty years. He was always prominent in German and Catholic societies, and his death is greatly mourned. The deceased is survived by one son, James Eichler, and four daughters, Mrs. L. J. Kieffer, Mrs. Carroll Lilly, Mrs. George Beaverson and Mrs. Thomas Boone. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from St. Anthony's church on Thursday morning.

NEW JESUIT COLLEGE.

The Jesuits are to build a new college at Rockhurst, near Kansas City. The college will be built on a tract of twenty-five acres and the approximate cost will be $1,000,000.

ASSISTANT

Appointed to Aid Director-General of Missions to the Colored People.

Able Young Priest of the Scranton Diocese Has Been Named.

Fund of $100,000 Is to be Raised to Help Work in the South.

ONE GREAT TRIPLE ALLIANCE

The Rev. D. J. Bustin, of the Diocese of Scranton, Pa., has been appointed assistant to the Rev. John E. Burke, Director-General of the Catholic Board of Mission Work Among the Colored People. Father Bustin entered upon his duties on January 1, 1910. He is now appealing in the Diocese of Scranton for the colored missions and will continue to take up collections in that diocese for some months, making his headquarters in the Bishop's house; whilst Father Burke will speak and collect in the Dioceses of Brooklyn and Newark.

Father Bustin was ordained about thirteen years ago at the American College in Rome, since which time he has worked with remarkable success in the Diocese of Scranton. Later he had established a parish in Jersey Shore, Pa., where he built a substantial church and rectory. He is admirably equipped for the mission to which his superiors have assigned him. Bishop Hoban is warmly interested in the propaganda that has been undertaken to convert the colored population in our country, and has given one of the most practical proof of his interest by lending one of his ablest priests to the Board for an indefinite period. The letter notifying Father Bustin of his appointment, and signed by Archbishop Blenk, of New Orleans, and Bishop Byrne, of Nashville Tenn, President and Secretary respectively, of the Catholic Board for Mission Work Among the Colored People, is as follows:

"Rev. D. J. Bustin: At the regular meeting of the Catholic Board for Mission Work Among the Colored People, held in the Cardinal's house, in Baltimore, on November 16, 1909, we were unanimously selected to assist the Rev. Director General, the Rev. John E. Burke, in our work for the colored missions. Under his direction your duties shall be similar to his, which are: To create and foster the missionary spirit among Catholics and others in favor of the colored people; preach on this subject in churches and elsewhere; collect funds in the various dioceses; distribute literature; form associations; and solicit subscriptions in aid of the work of the board. Your duty shall also be to visit places in which there are churches, schools or missions, to gather statistics and other information as may be useful for the guidance of the board. We heartily, therefore, recommend you and your efforts to the courtesy and co-operation of the Bishops, priests and laity of the country."

Father Burke and his assistant are tireless in their work of raising $100,000, to be given to the Southern Bishops for the erection and maintenance of schools and churches for the colored people. Their pet scheme is a taking one. They are striving to secure 100,000 persons, each of whom will give just $1.00, every year, to the colored missions. An appeal has been sent to all the pastors of the country urging them to allow each parish society to subscribe simply an annual dollar to the fund. For this purpose, subscription blanks accompany the appeal. By this means this great missionary work will be brought to the attention of the various societies, whose members will feel the missionary spirit, whilst the annual dollar appropriation from their funds will swell the fund to be used in the saving of souls. Every Catholic society should assist in this easy and small way. Moreover, every Catholic family in the States should be represented among the 100,000 annual subscribers. Think of the number of souls to be saved by the judicious disposition of this fund.

The three leagues are the other means used to raise money for the colored missions. They are: The Priests' League is composed of Bishops and Priests who pay the yearly subscription of $5.00 and agree to celebrate the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass once during the year for the benefactors of the work. From this league money is used to support missionaries. Priests help priests.

The Sisters' League is composed of religious communities which pay $5.00 annually and agree to recite special prayers regularly for the benefactors. The money from this league is used exclusively to pay the salaries of sisters. Sisters help sisters.

The League of the Laity, its members pay 25 cents annual subscriptions and agree to recite special prayers regularly for the benefactors. The promoters of this league are those who secure twenty members during the year.

Thus a triple alliance of prayer, good works and personal sacrifices is established. The annual publication entitled "Our Colored Missions," issued in June, the month of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, is sent gratis to all the members of the leagues and to the subscribers to the $100,000 fund.

CONFUSION

Prevails and the British Cabinet Now Faces a New Crisis.

Irish Threaten Break With Ministry Over Programme Offered.

Redmond to Adhere to Plan of Taking Up Veto Before Budget.

INSIST ON THE LORDS' DEFEAT

T. P. O'Connor, in his weekly cable from London to the American press, says that once more the situation is critical, and for the moment a rupture between the Ministry and the Irish party seems inevitable. The controversy rages around the old question of whether the budget should be passed before the veto is dealt with. John Redmond and the Nationalist members still adhere to the policy summed up in the words, "No veto, no budget." The Ministry, on the other hand, declares it is impossible to face the British constituencies without a plain attempt to carry the budget. In the meantime Redmond has a large backing among many of the radical speakers and newspapers for the policy of no veto, no budget, but this backing probably will disappear when the Liberals are brought face to face with the decision of their leaders with a threat to break up the Ministry and the prospect of an immediate general election.

The rupture means, of course, the break up of the Liberal forces to a disastrous extent in Great Britain. It also means the loss of both the budget and the veto and also the postponement of many reforms, including home rule, for some years. The Irish are more ready for general election than any other party and will face a rupture bravely if it is forced on them, but still a rupture would be so serious in its consequences that all reasonable men of all parties are exhausting their efforts to find a compromise. These efforts still go on day and night. At one hour they seem destined to find success and the next hour they seem doomed to failure.

For the moment the sky is clear, but there are clouds on the horizon that must not be ignored. In the first place there is a passionate desire among the Liberals that they should get the land clauses of the budget. Many of them declare that they dare not go back to their constituencies without having got the land clauses. The second and even more pressing difficulty is that the state of the finances is appalling. Every day adds to the amount of the unpaid tax. It looks as if in a few weeks' time the State would be face to face with a deficit of $125,000,000. Of course this means great dislocation of business, and all the city agencies are being used to force the Government to regularize the situation.

On the other hand, Redmond stands where he stood from the beginning of this struggle. He wants the financial chaos to continue as the biggest weapon in the hands of the anti-Lords party. And unless he is certain that Asquith can get guarantees to pass the veto bill, which is now unlikely, he is pledged not to help the Government or the Tory party out of the mess into which the action of the Lords has thrown the country. Redmond and the Irish party want, in short, to perpetuate for the moment—to be paradoxical—the thing which many of the Liberal Ministers and all the Tories want to bring to an end. Redmond's desire is that the Tories, if they should come into office on the refusal of the King to give the guarantees, should come face to face with this gigantic deficit. How could they meet it? The protectionist wing of the Tory party would propose to do so by a high protective tariff. But Balfour does not want that; the House of Commons with a Liberal and Irish majority would not stand for it; I don't believe the country would stand it.

There is talk of merging the two budgets into one—that for 1910 and that for 1911—and of concessions in the second budget to Ireland, which would make the budget much less obnoxious to Irish opinion. But that compromise would still leave untouched the question of leaving the Tories to face the gigantic deficit and of forcing them to surrender by that process. And if no compromise can be arranged on that basis between Asquith and Redmond the situation will again become impossible. But I think a compromise can be found which will enable Asquith to follow in this, as in other things, the tactics of Redmond and to justify the soundness of Redmond's views and the wisdom of the Prime Minister in adopting these views.

RADGE FOR CHIEF.

Friends and admirers of Assistant Fire Chief Mike Cassin have presented him a handsome diamond studded gold badge. The presentation took place at the residence of Charles J. Fisher at Prestons and Ormsby, Robert W. Brown making the speech and completely surprising the brave and valiant fire fighter. Chief Cassin will wear the badge with honor to himself and his friends.

DOMINICANS

Continue Their Great Educational Work in Rome.

Rev. J. A. McHugh, O. P., of the Dominican College at Washington, and a son of Patrick McHugh, of this city, furnishes the Kentucky Irish American with the following interesting account of the educational work of the Dominicans in Rome.

One of the earliest theological schools established in the city of Rome was at the Dominican Convent of Santa Maria Sopra Minerva. This convent, which dates back as far as 1253, has played a very prominent part in the history of the Dominican order. Until the original buildings were confiscated by the Italian Government in 1873 the Minerva was the residence of the chief officials of the order and the meeting place of most of the General Chapters. From the time of its foundation it was a center of great intellectual activity, special attention being given to the teachings of St. Thomas Aquinas, the prince of Catholic theologians. In 1557 this great man was declared a Doctor of the Church by Pius V. In order to promote a general and profound study of his writings the authorities of the Minerva established a few years later the College of St. Thomas Aquinas. The founder of the college was John Solano, a Spanish Dominican, a man of great piety and learning. Having resigned in 1561 the see of Cuzco in Peru, of which he was the second Bishop, he spent the last twenty years of his life at the Minerva. Shortly before his death, which occurred in 1580, he opened the new college with the warm approval and encouragement of the Holy See.

The invaluable services which this college has rendered to Catholic theology have perfectly realized the intention of its founders. Passing over a long list of its illustrious names, we come in our own times to that of Zigliara, who as Regent of the Minerva in the seventies was a leader in the movement that brought about the great revival of Thomistic philosophy and theology. His works have had a world-wide circulation and to them it is due in no small part that Aquinas is now recognized as the greatest thinker of the church in all ages. Leo XIII. created Zigliara a Cardinal and in an encyclical mentioned his name as pre-eminent well versed in Thomistic doctrine.

The library of the Minerva, known as the Casanatense, from Cardinal Casanata, its greatest benefactor, is recognized by scholars as one of the most valuable in the Eternal City. All its priceless books and manuscripts were declared national property at the fall of the temporal power and the library is now entirely under government management. Connected with this library until the date of its confiscation was a collection of six Dominican professors of different nationalities, who expounded the theology of St. Thomas in public lectures.

Popes have vied with one another in extolling the teachings of the Angelical Doctor. The Catholic religion, said Pope Leo XIII, could receive no more powerful assistance from the human reason than is found in the writings of St. Thomas. It is no small glory, then, to the Minerva to have been, by its manifold activities during so many centuries, the stronghold of Thomistic theology in the Eternal City. The new international college of the Angelicum which the Dominican fathers have recently opened in Rome is devoted to the same great work, and there can be no doubt that it will be crowned with the same success.

GOOD TIME

For Hibernians Who Will Be the Guests of Division 2.

Last week Division 2, A. O. H., held an interesting and busy session, when arrangements were completed for a complimentary reception and social session for all members of the order in the Falls Cities on the night of April 1 were completed. Con Ford presided and only one officer was absent. The Visiting Committee reported Thomas Hannon recovered from his recent illness, but Edward Madigan is still confined to his home, suffering from a dislocated shoulder. After it had been decided to remain in the present hall for another year Chairman Joe Lynch reported good progress for the euchre and ball to be held on Friday, April 15, for which many handsome prizes will be secured.

Messrs. Joe Lynch, William Greany and John Keane congratulated Division 2 on the excellent showing its members made at St. Patrick's church for the annual communion, and expressed appreciation of the reception given the order by Vicar General Cronin and the people of the parish.

Through the Kentucky Irish American an invitation is extended every member of the order to visit Division 2 at the next meeting, when a feast will be spread for them that will be long remembered. In addition a short but interesting programme will be presented. All who come will be welcome and are assured an evening of rare enjoyment.

EASTER THOUGHTS.

Once more the great festival of Easter is upon us. Christians in every land celebrate it as the anniversary of the resurrection of our blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Once more we are recalled to the fact that our Almighty Father sent his only Son from heaven to redeem us from sin, and to make way for us a place in the kingdom that had been intended for us from all eternity.

The fall of Adam and Eve, our first parents, would have shut us forever from the holy light of God's countenance had not the second person of the Blessed Trinity vouchsafed Himself a sacrifice for all mankind. For us He became man. He came, not as a prince of the world, but as the Babe of humble parents. He taught us humility, obedience and charity. He decried arrogance, ingratitude and selfishness. He gave us two great commandments: "Love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, with thy whole soul and with all thy strength," and "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

By his life, death and resurrection Jesus Christ has purchased for us the reward of eternal life. His glorious resurrection was the crowning feat of our redemption. What can we do in return? There is no evil worse than ingratitude, and we would be the sorriest of ingrates were we not to show some appreciation of our Saviour's efforts in our behalf. It is the duty of every Catholic at this time to resurrect himself from the slough of sin by approaching the holy sacraments of penance and the Eucharist. If we are really in accord with the spirit of holy mother church we will put off the old leaven today.

BAPTIST BIGOTRY.

In another column appears the copy of an advertisement showing the hostility of the Baptists to the Catholic church. All Baptists are not bad, but it is certain that those who advertise the work of ex-Priest Fresenborg, if there is such a man, are trying to incite a religious war. Never in its history did the Catholic church pick up a foul-mouthed renegade Protestant and exploit him at the expense of any other creed. The Baptist World is a very yellow journal.

QUEER STORY.

According to telegraphic advices from San Antonio, Texas, the Church of St. Mary there has been presented by the Vatican with a minute chip of one of St. Patrick's bones. Possible but hardly probable. St. Patrick's body has been buried in Ireland for fifteen centuries. It is news, indeed, to hear that his bones are being parceled out. The faith he brought to Ireland has been disseminated through every land, but his bones remain in Ireland.

HAVE RIGHT TO KICK.

The State Board of Equalization, now in session at Frankfort, did not know it was brewing a storm when it proposed to increase the assessed value of property in Jefferson county to the tune of 25 per cent. Labor unions have joined with business men, firms and corporations against such an injustice, and it would be a rank outrage to so increase the valuation.

From Rome comes word that a consistory will be held early in April, when several Cardinals will be created. Those mentioned for the high honor are Monsignor Lugari, for the last seven years assessor of the holy office; Monsignor Bisleti, major domo to Pius X., and Monsignor Mendes Bello, Patriarch of Lisbon. That there will be other creations at the consistory is deemed almost certain, but it would be premature for the moment to say anything about them.

President Taft's address to the Irish Fellowship Club of Chicago on Thursday of last week showed he knows something of Irish history. It will never go down as a masterpiece of oratory, but the address shows that he is keenly alive to the interests of the Irish in America, and that he knows that Irish interests are American interests.

Ex-Gov. Beckham, who returned to Frankfort full of Florida water the day the Legislature adjourned, remains sore at everybody but himself. His vitriolic denunciation is not argument, and is therefore being received with only passing notice and contempt.

The Catholics of Louisville are preparing a grand Kentucky welcome for their new Bishop, the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, who will arrive next Monday evening. He would have felt three blessed had he been in Louisville during Holy Week to see the devotion shown by the people in the various churches.

This is Holy Saturday, the eve of Easter Sunday and the last day of abstinence during Lent.

LACE MAKERS

Have Finished Their Work and Fly For the East.

The young Irish maidens who have been demonstrating the art of making real lace at the Stewart Dry Goods Company's store during the past two weeks will leave tonight for Baltimore. They will be accompanied by the Rev. Father Michael O'Flanagan, who brought them to America from Ireland. Their work in Louisville has been of an educational nature, and will be of great pecuniary benefit in the end to Irish industries.

THE REV. MICHAEL O'FLANAGAN.
SUMMERHILL COLLEGE

One hears much of Irish lace, but there is not one woman in 10,000 in America that can tell the difference between real Irish lace and the counterfeit brand. The Irish people want the Americans to be able to discern the difference. Many Americans go each year to Europe, but comparatively few visit Ireland. Even then the number that interest themselves in Irish industries is ridiculously small.

When the mountain failed to go to Mahomet, Mahomet went to the mountain. So Father O'Flanagan brought the Irish lace-makers to the United States. They have demonstrated their art from coast to coast, and have caused a demand for Irish lace. This is only the beginning.

The Misses Annie O'Crawley, Kate Egan and Mary O'Flanagan, who composed the party of demonstrators here, are bright, intelligent and up-to-date girls. They hail from the Franciscan Convent at Loughlyn, County Roscommon, and Father O'Flanagan is from Summerhill College, County Sligo. Father O'Flanagan and his charges are well pleased with the treatment received in Louisville.

LARGEST SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

Chicago has the unique distinction of having the largest Sunday-school in the world. This is located on Forster street, in the heart of the Italian settlement known as "Little Italy." It was founded in 1892 by Rev. Father Ponziglione, S. J., as the Guardian Angels' school, but is now known as the Guardian Angels' Italian mission, which with 125 teachers and an attendance of more than 2,500 children is the largest in the world. While the religious aspect of this great institution is its most salient feature, everything else that makes for the social and moral uplift of the children is studiously attended to. Thus the little girls are taught sewing. As an incentive to their work they are permitted to retain the garments which they make. This class numbers some four hundred members. Another great source of help to the children is the library. That the children are appreciative of this feature of the school is attested by the fact that about four hundred books are distributed every week and that they are becoming Americanized by the fact that such books as the life of Washington, life of Lincoln and similar works are most in demand. The boys' club and sodalities for both boys and girls are means by which the social life of the children is strengthened.

READY FOR TEDDY.

If former President of the United States Theodore Roosevelt visits Ireland he is sure to receive a hundred thousand welcomes. The Lord Mayor of Dublin will greet him not only with "Cead Mille Failte," but will remind his fellow citizens that Mr. Roosevelt has done more for the Irish people and Catholics in general than all of his predecessors. At last advice Mr. Roosevelt did not contemplate a visit to Ireland.

James Tighe, the veteran L. and N. locomotive engineer, is now being addressed as "Grandpa" by his friends and acquaintances. A new baby girl has come to grace the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van O'Daniel. The mother is the daughter of Mr. Tighe. The little one was baptized at St. William's church last Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Tighe were godfather and godmother respectively. Both parents and grandparents are receiving congratulations.

MACKIN SOCIAL CLUB'S SERIES.

The young men of Mackin Council's social club will inaugurate the spring series of dances and receptions on Monday night at the club house. Typical Easter decorations, a floral display and continuous music will add to the brilliancy of the occasion, which is being looked forward to with no little interest by the younger set. Sherrie Wynn, Chairman, and Grand Secretary Eugene J. Cooney Secretary. Other members of the committee are Charles S. Reidy, J. C. Kirchdorfer, Dr. J. A. Casper, Henry Schrecker, Louis J. Kieffer, Dr. J. R. Leazer, Frank G. Adams, F. Valinotti and F. Brigan. Bishop O'Donoghue is a charter member of Indianapolis Council and a staunch supporter of the Y. M. C.

BROUGHT HIS OWN NAME.

James W. Dougherty, the well known linotype operator, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Covington, is rejoicing over the arrival of a ten-pound-boy. The young fellow arrived early on the morning of March 17, and as Papa Jim writes to friends in Louisville "receptions don't have to guess what name is going to be." Mrs. Dougherty and young Patrick are doing nicely, and the father is receiving congratulatory messages.

FOR ST. COLUMBIA'S.

The good people of St. Columbia's parish have made great preparations for the grand eucbre and supper to be given at Pfister's Hall, Twenty-fifth and Market streets, on the afternoons and evenings of next Tuesday and Wednesday. The afternoon games will be called at 2:30 o'clock and the evening games at 8 o'clock. An elegant supper will be served by the ladies of the congregation. Tickets are being sold at twenty-five cents.

DEVILISH

Advertisement in Baptist World Displays Venom and Ignorance.

Alleged ex-Priest Offers New Book in Which Church Is Attacked.

Baptist Editor Proclaims Catholicism Is Doomed to Death.

LACK OF CHRISTIAN SPIRIT

The Baptist World, an organ of the Baptist creed published in Louisville, under date of March 24, contains the following advertisement. In large black type it says: "At Last Roman Catholicism Is Doomed to Death." Then in smaller type another head: "Fresenborg, a St. Louis, Mo. Priest, has Denounced the Church. He has just completed the book 'From Darkness to Light.' It is like a meteor from on high, a thunderbolt, which has shaken the foundations of the Roman Catholic Church."

Is that not awe-inspiring? The old church is blissfully unconscious that its foundations have been shaken, and that its whole structure is about to fall.

Beneath the headline quoted above the following prospectus of the book is given:

"Ex-Priest Fresenborg Explains. 'Why the confessional box is corrupting to innocent girlhood. 'How the Roman Catholic church teaches that all Protestant children are illegal. 'How city, State and national elections are swayed to their advantage. 'Why Catholic women are anxious to teach our public schools. 'What happens behind convents' dark doors. 'What the Pope is doing in Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. 'Unmarried devility of the Roman priestcraft. 'The influence of priesthood in America today. 'How the priests conduct systematic robbery. 'How the Roman Catholic church is a poisonous viper biting at the vital point of our public school system. 'How Pat Crowe, kidnapper of Edw. Cuddey, Jr., was given the garb of a priest and refuge in the church after he had received his ransom. 'How William Morgan, exposed Free Masonry and was thereafter sheltered by the church. 'Ex-Priest Fresenborg tells of things which will make every true Protestant's blood boil with indignation and the cold-sweat stand out on the clamminess of death, but it is all true. 'The author agrees to give $5,000 to any charitable institution named by any State in the United States if any Catholic priest, Bishop or Cardinal will prove by any of their church doctrines that he has misstated or misrepresented the teachings of Catholicism in any letter, word or sentence. 'We have a limited supply of this wonderful work for the readers of this paper. Price $1.50. Seventeen large full page illustrations, about 400 pages in all. 'We men—know the dangers which threaten your children, your home and your country. Be strong—help remove them.'"

Investigation has revealed that there is no priest in St. Louis or elsewhere in the United States named Fresenborg. Even if there were what excuse could any self-respecting editor have for taking an advertisement full of so much devilry?

There is not a Catholic journal in the world that would so malign any non-Catholic creed by printing such an advertisement. The publication of such an advertisement shows lack of intelligence as well as lack of Christianity. Ignorance is a misfortune, but to advertise one's own ignorance is a fault.

TO WELCOME BISHOP.

Mackin and Trinity Councils have made arrangements to entertain the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue at an early date. It will be fixed at his earliest convenience after his enthronization. A committee of five from each council has the matter in hand. This committee has organized by electing Grand President Robert T. Hays, Chairman, and Grand Secretary Eugene J. Cooney Secretary. Other members of the committee are Charles S. Reidy, J. C. Kirchdorfer, Dr. J. A. Casper, Henry Schrecker, Louis J. Kieffer, Dr. J. R. Leazer, Frank G. Adams, F. Valinotti and F. Brigan. Bishop O'Donoghue is a charter member of Indianapolis Council and a staunch supporter of the Y. M. C.

ST. CECILIA'S BAZAR.

The General Committee arranging for the bazar for the benefit of the new St. Cecilia's church has everything in readiness. All that is now lacking is the arrival of the opening date, April 4. The bazar will continue until April 11. Mackin Council's club house has been generously turned over to the committee for the bazar. Numerous handsome prizes have been secured for the various booths and the combination books are going rapidly. There will be no solicitation of chances on the floor during the week of the bazar.

JOHN DUFFY PLACED.

Roscoe Ledigh has been made Assistant City Controller to succeed the late John H. Hancock, and John Duffy succeeds Mr. Ledigh as bookkeeper in the City Controller's office. Mr. Duffy is a popular young Irish-American and served several years as an accountant in the City Tax Receiver's office. He is well liked and his appointment is a popular one.

OLD FRIENDS

Will Rejoice to Hear From
Burns.

Thomas K. Hines, of 1913 West Madison street, is in receipt of a programme from Philadelphia, where the Rev. Father James T. Higgins, pastor of the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament, gave an illustrated lecture on the evening of March 17. The lecture dwelt with scenes in Ireland and was accompanied by a musicale given by the members of the choir of the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Among the foremost soloists were Mrs. Joseph D. Burns and Dr. Joseph P. Burns, both former residents of Louisville. In old Land League days in Louisville Joseph P. Burns was an active member and sang many an Irish song at the meetings of the various local branches of the league. At that time he was a tailor. Before leaving Louisville he married Miss Mary Hilbert, and some time after removed to Pennsylvania, where he studied medicine. For several years past he has been practicing his profession in Philadelphia. Dr. Burns is a poet as well as a musician. Here is the first stanza of his latest song, "Green and Gold": "Erin, the barbs of former days, Song of a land oppressed; Oft saddened themes in minor lays Breathed forth a spirit blessed. But now the harp's triumphant strain Strikes chords of major bold; For Ireland will be free again, Neath flag of green and gold."

Y. M. I.

Thirteen New Councils Will Give Order a Great Impetus.

The Irish Standard of Minneapolis brings news of a movement that promises a big impetus for the Young Men's Institute in the North-western States. Work was started in St. Michael's parish with gratifying results, and in telling of the organization of St. Michael's Council the Irish Standard says: "The first of seven councils of the Young Men's Institute, which will organize in St. Paul as auxiliary to the Catholic churches of the city, was formed last Wednesday evening by about forty of the young men of St. Michael's church on the West Louis Boulevard, of Indianapolis, Grand Organizer of the Supreme Council, led the meeting and administered the pledge. The Young Men's Institute bears the same relationship to the Catholic church that the Y. M. C. A. does to the Protestant churches. Only young men who are Catholics are eligible to membership. It aims to help young men and boys physically, mentally, spiritually and socially. It is planned to organize seven councils in St. Paul, four in Minneapolis, one in LaCrosse, Wis., and one in Eau Claire, Wis. In connection with the Young Men's National League the total membership of the order in the United States is about 75,000."

WON'T HURT LOUISVILLE.

The hat pins in vogue in Chicago must exceed the Louisville article in length. The City Council of Chicago has passed an ordinance to prohibit women from wearing long hat pins in public places, and Mayor Busse has signed the ordinance. Of course the women consider the new law an outrage and are vigorously objecting. Here in Louisville the various styles of hats are so wide that there is no danger of the lengthiest hat pin protruding over the edge.

LADIES TO ENTERTAIN.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., has perfected all arrangements for a euchre and dance at Falls City Hall on the evening of Tuesday, April 5. The ladies desire to extend a special invitation to the members of the four local Hibernian divisions. Tickets are now on sale with Dougherty & McElliott, Market street, near Thirteenth, and D. J. Coleman, 1633 Portland avenue.

BRITISH CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

Advices from London state that a permanent Congress of Roman Catholics has been formed in Great Britain with the Archbishop of Westminster as President and the other Bishops of England, Scotland and Wales as Vice Presidents. A committee has been named to arrange the details for the session to be held at Leeds this year, from July 29 to August 2.

ASKS ANOTHER TERM.

Hon. Swagart Sherley, who has represented the Louisville district in Congress for four terms, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination. Congressman Sherley has proved an able and faithful representative, and with his past experience believes himself now better equipped than ever to serve the city and State at the national capital.

ONLY ONCE.

"I can only pass this way once," somebody thoughtfully said concerning life. Have you ever thought how that note of oneness strikes through everybody's life in this world? In a moment—once a babe; once a child; once a youth; once becoming a young woman; once in the vigor of maturity; once in old age, should we live so long; once dying.

All those stakes we pass through once only. Really when we come to think of it our chance in this world is pretty narrow. If twiceness or thriceness were the note of our life here, a failure once or twice would not be so great a matter. But that grim fact of oneness makes living a mighty serious matter, doesn't it?

THE OLD ROCKING CHAIR.

The oaken bucket has a place In story and in song, And to the wooden cradle, too, Some laurel wreaths belong. The orchard swing, the ancient clock, The old traditions share, But dearest to my mind of all Was mother's rocking chair.

I nestled in her loving arms Toward the close of day, And to the pleasant land of dreams Of silk or leather warm. Was quickly rocked away. When pain and illness racked my frame What ease beyond compare I found, with pillows at my back, In mother's rocking chair.

No padded seat or cushioned arms Of silk or leather warm. All the years since then have held such comfort for my form. And often when I feel the weight Of grinding toll and care, Oh! how I long to rest again In mother's rocking chair.

—Minna Irving, in Leslie's.

Thin materials and satin faced ones are to remain in vogue.

Embroidered colored dots appear on some of the new swisses.

The one piece frock holds its own as a garment for indoors.

A new place for the watch is the coat sleeve, where a special button-hole is worked for its accommodation and to show its face.

Dot patterns on some of the new foulards are arranged in stripes, the width of the stripes varying with the size of the dot itself.

Whole gowns are being made of baby Irish lace, with one button coats, small revers and long sleeves, often V shaped in the front.

The cord grouping shown in the new dimities and other wash fabrics are unusual. Some of the plaid effects are especially charming.

The many ribbed pagoda topped parasols, as well as the square ones, promise to give a touch of variety to the sunshades this spring and summer.

OYSTERS AND SPAGHETTI.

Break a half package of spaghetti into boiling water and boil about thirty minutes and drain. Put in buttered baking dish, layers of spaghetti and oysters. Put pieces of butter and sprinkling of salt and pepper on each layer of oysters. Pour over all a cupful of milk and cover with cracker crumbs. Bake in hot oven for twenty minutes.

CHANGES

Proposed in Laws That Now Govern the
A. O. H.

Only for the fact that it was Holy Week there would have been a rousing meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., last Monday night, but the work of the evening will doubtless attract attention from the order at large. President Patrick T. Sullivan occupied the chair, and announced that invitations had been received from the Ladies' Auxiliary to the euchre and ball to be given at Falls City Hall on Tuesday, April 5, and from Mackin Council to be its guests at St. Cecilia's church bazar on A. O. H. day, both of which were accepted.

Thomas Callahan and John Dillon, who have been ill and unable to work for some time, were reported improving and able to walk about. Attorney Lawrence J. Mackey, one of the best posted men on the laws of the order, submitted a number of proposed changes, which were fully discussed and approved. They apply to the government of the National and State Boards, and while many articles and sections are abridged they are only improved. In no case are the principles or purposes of the order changed. Laws that are ambiguous or open to double construction are eliminated, and in their stead will be found substitutes that will work for the unity and general good of the order.

Division 3 will in the near future arrange for another initiation, which will doubtless be made the occasion for another of its always popular and successful reunions.

GOOD MATERIAL

In Present Collection of Louisville's Base Ball Players.

The Louisville baseball team will be given its first try-out tomorrow and Monday afternoons. Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics being the medium which will give the fans a line on our pennant possibilities. Right now the strongest line-up is problematical, but the Kentucky Irish American gives the call to the following: Hart or Hughes catcher, Fisher pitcher, Howard first base, Casey second base, Moriarty short stop, Suter Sullivan third base, Smoot right field, Stanley center field, Woodruff or Sullivan left field. It is among to the fans in general to read the slugging in the Courier-Journal about how good Callahan, Soffel and Olsen are, when in fact either of the above three are not of Association calibre. The public is going to give good old Heinie Peltz hearty support and hopes he won't be influenced by the Courier young man in selecting the team.

LOUISVILLE'S HUSTLERS.

During the recent session of the Kentucky Legislature the Louisville delegation secured the passage of twenty-one of the 153 bills enacted. Senator Herman D. Newcomb put over seven, while Senator Mark Ryan is accredited with five, and two more of his measures are likely to become laws without the Governor's signature. Senator Samuel L. Robertson has four to his credit, while Senator Nat C. Cureton, Representative P. J. Cosgrove, Hite Huffaker, R. L. Harris and L. H. Frances each have one measure to their credit.

DIED AT COVINGTON.

Mrs. Margaret McDermott, a former resident of this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Charlton, in Covington on Wednesday night. The deceased was born in Cairo, Ill., sixty-four years ago. When a young woman she moved to Louisville and resided here thirty years. Eight years ago she went to Covington to make her home with her daughter. The remains will be brought to this city tomorrow for burial.

BEQUESTS FOR CHARITY.

According to the will of Miss Katherine O'Connor, a trained nurse who died last week, three-fourths of her estate goes to charitable institutions. The remaining quarter is to be turned over to the Rev. Father Patrick Walsh or William Gausepohl for masses for the repose of her soul. No appraisalment of the estate has been made. Mrs. Antoine Brach has been named executrix of the will.

REMARKABLE IRISHMAN.

Thomas Kelly, reputed to be 110 years old and who voted in the recent South Tyrone election, lives in the farmhouse at Lurganbuoy, where he was born. The old man is still active, and it is said he shaves himself and cuts his own hair. Kelly takes snuff and occasionally has a glass of potent.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

A man going home at a late hour in the night saw that the occupants of a house standing flush with the street had left a window up, and he decided to warn them and prevent a burglary.

Putting his head into the window he called out: "Hello, good peep!" That was all he said. A whole painful of water struck him in the face, and as he staggered back a woman shrieked out: "Didn't I tell you what you'd get if you wasn't home by 9 o'clock."

TENDER FEET.

Many persons are troubled with tender feet. The following is a permanent and harmless cure: Boracic acid, two parts, two parts of magnesium powdered, one part of French chalk. Sprinkle in shoes.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 4 meets Monday night and the largest attendance thus far this year is expected.

The Ladies' Auxiliary at New Britain, Conn., expects to reach the 500 mark before July 1.

Members of the order and auxiliary of Somerville, Mass., last Sunday presented Rev. Father O'Brien $500.

Four hundred members of the order received holy communion in a body at St. John's Cathedral at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Katherine Burke, State President, reports a splendid increase for the year in the Massachusetts Ladies' Auxiliary.

Covington Hibernians are elated over the success of their entertainment at the Auditorium in honor of St. Patrick.

Division 57, recently instituted at Cambridge, Mass., initiated twenty-two candidates at the first meeting this month.

The Hibernian parade at Syracuse on St. Patrick's day was composed of thirteen divisions, and was reviewed by Bishop Ludden and the clergy of the city.

Three new auxiliaries and a juvenile division have been organized in Connecticut. State officers are desirous of making this the banner State of the Union.

Lent ends early this year, and thus there is furnished more opportunity for gatherings before the summer's warmth that mean so much for the swelling of the treasury of the division.

Rev. Timothy Dempsey, of St. Louis, who has a national reputation as a benefactor of the American tramp, will address the Milwaukee Hibernians on April 6, his subject being "Men of the Road."

The three degrees were exemplified on March 6 on a class of twenty candidates by the auxiliary at Thompsonville, Conn., after which eight young lady aids, gowned in red, white, blue and green, executed fancy drills.

Dennis Lyons is given the credit of keeping the order together in Memphis. To him it has been his great pride to labor for the Hibernians, and to his efforts was largely due the success of the St. Patrick's day celebration.

The ten divisions of Minneapolis and vicinity have united to give a social and ball on April 5 for the benefit of the Catholic Orphanage. They have engaged the Masonic Temple and will make the enterprise a big success.

The Hibernians of Portland, Ore., fully realize the importance of the convention soon to be held there, and declare they will not be found wanting in the care of their brothers from the outside, no matter how large the number.

Miss Anna Mallia, National President, has the distinction of having the first juvenile division of the Ladies' Auxiliary to be founded in the world. Organized at Scranton fifteen months ago, it has a membership of about seventy.

The Ladies' Auxiliary County Board of St. Paul has organized a literary committee composed of three members from each division, with the County President at its head. This committee is to meet with the different auxiliaries monthly and furnish a programme of Irish music, literature and dances, so as to keep up a racial pride of the same in Minnesota.

National President Cummings spent St. Patrick's day at Union Hill, N. J., and delivered the address at the banquet held in the evening.

Keith's Theater at Cleveland was crowded by members of the order and their friends when Prof. Michael Rohan, of Marquette University, delivered his lecture on "Beautiful Ireland." The Cleveland Choral Society added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Division 2 meets next Friday night, April 1, at First and Market, and all members of the order are invited to be guests at the social session and feast that will be spread.

The Kentucky Irish American has been requested to invite all Hibernians of the Falls Cities to the reception and social session to be held next Friday night by Division 2. President Ford wants the State and County Boards and all the divisions fully represented, and all who attend are promised an evening of real Irish mirth and hospitality.

MASONIC THEATER.

Masonic Theater will be dark next week, but Manager C. A. Shaw has secured an excellent stock company for the spring and summer. Katherine Rober, the leading lady, is declared by Lee Shubert to be one of the best stock actresses on the American stage. The company will give its initial performance on April 18. According to present plans the company will remain here throughout the summer.

PRETTY PRIZES.

Next Tuesday afternoon and evening eueches will be held at Nadorff's Hall, Eighteenth and Kentucky, under the direction of Miss May Wallace, at which many handsome hand-painted china prizes will be awarded. As the preceding eueches have been much enjoyed a large gathering of players is looked for.

ANNIVERSARY EUECHE.

Trinity Council will give an anniversary eueche next Wednesday afternoon and evening, and it is expected that the club house at Baxter and Morton avenues will be taxed to its utmost capacity. Eighty-five handsome prizes will be awarded, and accommodations will be provided for all.

CARNATION CLUB'S DANCE.

The Carnation Club has issued invitations to its first select dance, which will be given at Nadorff's Hall, Eighteenth and Kentucky streets, Manager Dustin announces more comedy films for the moving picture show at Hopkins' Theater next week. Now that Lent is over the attendance is expected to be much larger, and the patrons will be in a more joyous frame of mind. This large and commodious play house expects to attract capacity crowds during the post-Lenten season.

"AMONG THE STARS."

The committee from Mackin Council that is arranging for the production of "Among the Stars" has secured Macauley's Theater for the evenings of May 18, 19 and 20, with a matinee on May 21. Rehearsals have been progressing steadily, and while Holy Week prevented any active work, cast and chorus expect to get busy again next week.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled
From Exchanges.

Dundalk has its skating rink, and a move is being made to open one at Carrickmacross.

Bogslides near Castlereagh and Banagher caused great excitement and many families were compelled to leave their homes.

Justice Hanna has remanded Henry Cunningham for having discharged several shots into the house of Patrick Keenan at Taghlagh.

The Dundalk branch of the United Irish League is now one of the largest in Ireland, and in spirit is united and confident of the future.

Among a wide circle of friends at Dungarvan, including the members of the force, the departure to Arklow of District Inspector McGovern, R. I. C., is much regretted.

Everywhere throughout Ireland the United Irish League is holding large and enthusiastic meetings, and at many places branches have been organized where none had existed before.

The terrific storm of wind and rain which swept over the western part of Ireland for several days, reminding the older inhabitants of the "big wind," did much damage, but happily was not attended by any loss of life.

A grazing ranch, the property of Walter Taylor, Castle Taylor, Rovegh, County Galway, has been cleared of its stock. Recently boycotting notices, couched in threatening terms, were scattered about the district.

The death occurred at Callan of Mrs. Mary Locke, mother of the celebrated poet, John Locke. She had reached the age of eighty-six, and during her long connection with Callan had made for herself friends of all the people.

The solemn ceremony of religious profession of Miss Rose Begley, daughter of James Begley, of Crossmaglen, took place at the Poor Clare Convent in Newry. Rev. Father Doyle performed the ceremony and delivered an address, in which he spoke of the graces and blessings of a religious life.

County Fermanagh mourns the death of Very Rev. James Canon McKenna, for forty years parish priest at Brookeborough. His faithful ministry will long be remembered also at Pettigo and Lough Derg. Father McKenna passed through Maynooth for the priesthood with the late Dean Smollen, of Enniskillen.

The Dundalk Democrat, one of the ablest papers published in Ireland, was sued for libel by Dr. Richard M. Blake, who has been fighting the Nationalist party. The misguided medico wanted $5,000 damages, but was given only $250. The verdict was a surprise to the court and people, as the Democrat substantiated the statement complained of at the trial, which was held at the Armagh Assizes.

Councillor E. J. Long, ex-High Sheriff of Limerick, has presented to the museum attached to the Carnegie Library, a sword and a flint gun, which were secreted in O'Callaghan's tannery prior to the '67 rising. Long mentioned that a former manager of his leather department, thirty years ago, was Head Center of the Fenian organization in Limerick, and had informed him that the arms referred to had been secreted on his premises.

The hand of death has laid itself on Rev. Hugh O'Neill, and has snatched from the parish of Monaghan an administrator whose death will be deeply deplored. The solemn tolling of the Cathedral bell gave the first indication of the sad event that had taken place. A few moments later and everyone in Monaghan and district had received the news and deep sorrow prevailed, and all the business houses of the town were shuttered.

Castle Freke, the beautiful residence of the Carbery family, situated between Clonakilty and Roscarbery, was burned to the ground, the loss being $125,000. The owner is Lady Carbery, well known in the South for her keen interest in all that tends to the good of the people, especially the poor. The castle or fortress was erected in the fifteenth century by Randal Oge Barry, but was surrendered to Queen Elizabeth in 1602 and held by the English until 1641.

CALLED TO REWARD.

People of all classes at Brookville, Ind., in the Indianapolis diocese, were deeply grieved last Sunday when they learned that the Rev. Father A. A. Schenek, for many years the beloved pastor of St. Michael's church, had been called to his eternal reward. Father Schenek was born at St. Wendel, Ind., sixty-seven years ago, and was well known throughout the State. His first charge was at Seymour, since when he had been an earnest and indefatigable worker for God and humanity. His funeral was largely attended, priests from all over the diocese being present.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.

"Arsene Lupin," the celebrated French detective drama, will open a half-week's engagement at Macauley's Theater Monday night. The play has twenty-six speaking parts and is said to be full of thrills. During the last half of the week with a matinee on Saturday the attraction will be the saucy German music play, "Alma Wo Wobnet Du." This musical comedy is now in its second year in New York. The part of Alma will be presented here by Hedwig Richard, a brilliant young comedienne.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Princess Amusement Company has had no cause to complain of lack of patronage during Lent, and now that the penitential season is over the crowds at the Casino, Princess and Columbia promise to be larger than ever. The management offers excellent bills at each of its playhouses during the coming week.
